ONE
Step
CLOSER TO PERFECTION

One of the more noticeable campus sights, as construction took over at YCP!

The 'Year of Construction' was underway, and students watched as buildings emerged from nothingness.

HORIZON

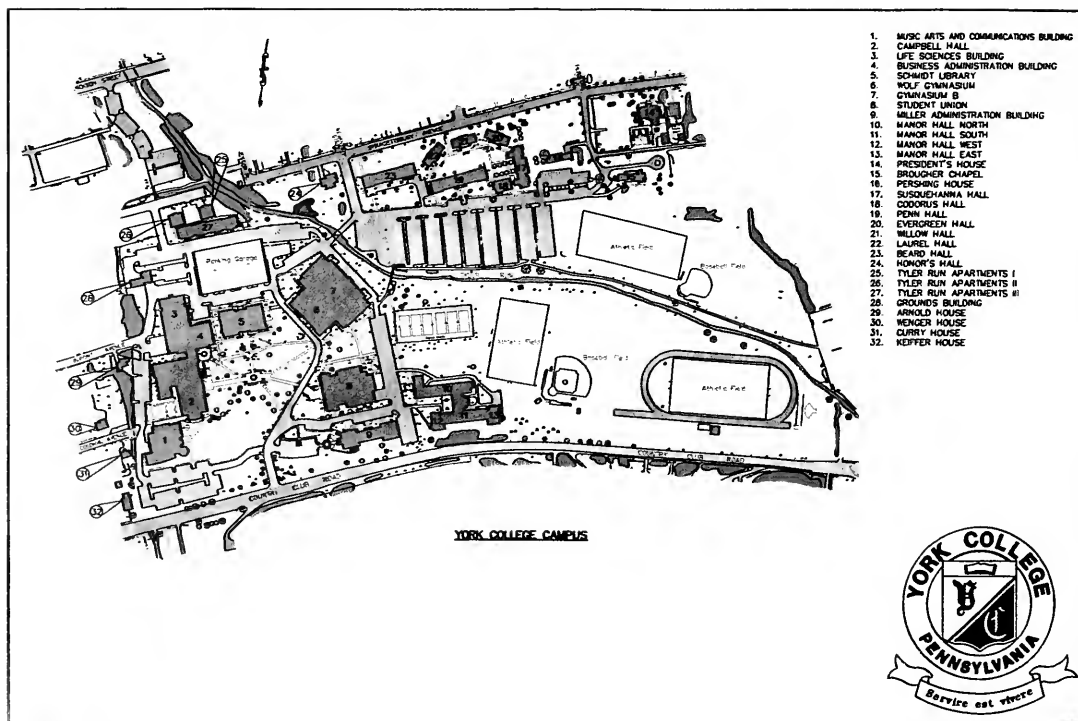

ONE STEP CLOSER TO PERFECTION

What does the theme of this year's Horizon Yearbook mean; "One Step Closer to Perfection?" Several things, actually. York College of Pennsylvania is always taking strides to better itself academically, socially, financially, and all sorts of different ways. This year has been one of the larger of the "steps" York College has taken, and will take again in the future.

Taking on such projects as the Music, Art, and Communications Center; the new apartment and dormitory facilities; the remodeling of the Spart's Den; the creation of a co-ed physical fitness room; the addition of programs, majors, and services, has made this year one of the biggest "steps" York College has ever taken.

Follow the 1994 Horizon Yearbook staff through this book and see what history we've captured for York College of Pennsylvania.

What the layout of York College of Pennsylvania will be once construction is finished in the summer of 1994.

OPENING

Step
CLOSER TO

PERFECTION

The monster building rising from the ground next to Campbell Hall.

A truly unique building, the MAC center draws lots of attention.

YCP GETS

The Music, Art, & Communications Center, that is! The new academic building, set to open its doors to students in the fall of 1994, has been one of the year's biggest eye catchers.

This newest step toward achieving YCP's goals will bring a few added luxuries. The 59,000 square feet of additional space, spread over the four stories, will offer more than just classrooms. A new art gallery has been constructed to attract national shows, and features a HVAC unit as well as a complete security system. The new formal recital hall will seat 210 patrons and offers a full stage. The MAC center does provide YCP with 21 new classrooms and 19 faculty offices.

"What about parking," you say? There will be an additional 120 vehicle spaces provided in the new lot adjacent to the center (currently, there will be 5 spaces for handicapped individuals.) Mr. Melato, Director of Physical Plant & Personnel has also stated that parking North of the Dupont Street entrance will now be for student use and parking South of this entrance will be designated for the faculty.

The Campaign for YORK COLLEGE OF PENNSYLVANIA

Giving Opportunities

The Music, Art, and Communications Center at York College

The above drawing depicts what the Music, Art, and Communications Center will look like when it is completed.

Once preliminary preparations were complete, crews began digging the new access road from the building site to the main entrance of campus.

A MAC???

The infamous hole in the earth kept getting deeper!

The site was cleared of vegetation, and excavation began shortly thereafter.

This rear right side view shows the various sections of the new addition to the YCP campus.

This picture was taken before the upper right portion (shown above) was fully constructed. It does however, show the round portion of the building from the front.

Opening

This photo of the main entrance to campus depicts where the new road leading into the parking lot adjacent to the MAC center will be.

Another mound of YCP is going to be formed somewhere within the "Long Fence!"

Many people didn't realize how close the MAC center would actually be to Campbell Hall

Drivers on Country Club Road have seen only this view of the building, and may be unaware of the actual size of it.

The faculty lot at the end of Colonial Ave. is now where part of the building stands.

YCP's NEW HOME??

No, the college hasn't moved; it's acquired another house for students to live in on campus. The Pershing House, located on the corner of Pershing and Springettsbury Ave, will provide housing for 12 residents beginning in the fall of 1994. Currently, there are a few students living in the house, and a faculty member and his family are temporarily residing in the guest quarters.

by: John Garubba

From the House's front lawn one can see many of YCP's other housing facilities.

The Pershing House is quite large and a true asset to YCP's beauty and charm.

The rear side of the house will have a lovely view of the new parking area behind the Susquehanna Apts.

The Pershing House is separated from the Brougher Chapel by the Pershing Street entrance to campus.

Opening

TWO NEW WATER-

Not Quite! YCP has merely begun construction on two new housing facilities, and named them Codorus Hall and Susquehanna Hall. Susquehanna, the apartment complex and Codorus, the newest freshmen dormitory, are between the Penn Hall building and the Pershing House.

Susquehanna Hall will consist of 14 four person apts and 8 six person apts, each offering residents a bathroom, 2 bedrooms, a living room and a kitchen. This four story building, which will house an office on the first floor with mail and laundry facilities for both new facilities, will be connected to Codorus Hall by walkways leading to the elevator. The elevator will, however, be for the exclusive use of handicapped residents who will be given a key for access.

Codorus Hall offers 39 traditional dormitory rooms spread over three floors, with bathrooms located at the end of each floor.

More parking? Yes. Seventy additional spaces will be provided east of the dormitory.

by: John Garubba

Susquehanna Hall is going up fast. This picture shows what will soon be the front of building.

Codorus Hall is going up just as fast. Two floors are just about finished being framed; only one more to go.

WAYS ON CAMPUS??

The Pershing House is getting a new neighbor.

Penn Hall is also just a few steps away from Codorus Hall.

With any construction, there is always plenty of dirt to pile up.

The buildings are just next to the last few resident parking lots by Penn Hall.

This view of Codorus shows the position of the dorm with respects to the mini-dorms (back, left).

The two buildings form an "L-shape" and will have a courtyard inside the "L".

Opening

ANOTHER FACELIFT

Yes, it's true. The Spart's Den had a few more touches added to it over the summer of 1993.

During the summer of 1992, the Den was enlarged to give more room for the pool table, additional arcade games and additional seating. New tables and chairs were also a feature of that remodeling, and students welcomed the change with open arms.

Students didn't realize, however, that the remodeling was not complete. During the summer of 1993, the floor was replaced; the entire area, including entrances, was painted; a self-serve counter and a salad and cold sandwich bar were installed; and new refrigerators for beverages were purchased. This was quite a surprise for many students to return to in the fall of 1993. The change was spectacular; the Den had such a fresh, new look to it, and many were impressed.

The Spart's Den still features numerous comedy acts throughout the year, and houses such activities as Bingo and Name that Tune. The atmosphere of the new Den has made for many enjoyable events for many students.

by: John Garubba

The new self-serve a and the new refrigerators and candy bins are the most noticeable change.

There is a new self-serve window where students can order hot sandwiches and most other menu items.

FOR THE DEN??

The old counter seems ancient now.

The old curtains and floor are seen here for the last time.

The curtains have been replaced with new blinds (in YCP Green, of course!)

The fresh paint and new floor make the Den look like it was just built.

The Den after the 1992 expansion, but prior to the 1993 atmosphere changes were made.

The sitting area, featuring a big screen TV, is still an important part of the newest Spart's Den layout.

Opening

STOP THE MUSIC??

The large music room in the lower level of the Gym that everyone has become familiar with during music classes and when passing by during different group practices, will be no more. Room 218 in the Wolf Gymnasium will be undergoing remodeling this summer, and when it reopens it will be a co-ed physical fitness center.

Since the MAC center will be housing new facilities for the music needs of YCP students, the old space would be vacant. The remodelling is set to begin on May 23, 1994 and be completed July 3, 1994. The current weight room will also be changing; it will become an aerobic exercise room.

by: John Garubba

The risers and chairs will soon be replaced by mats and exercise equipment.

The endless row of filing cabinets, piano, and instrument lockers will also be relocated to their new home.

Students will no longer be looking up at the blackboard in room 218 of the Gym, but instead they'll be pumping iron.

York College gets Wyld

Jean A. Wyld came to YCP to replace the newly retired Dean DeMeester as the Dean of Academic Affairs. She wanted to be at a new institution, as she had worked in the same one for the last twelve years. She was drawn to York College because of its positive energy, and because the administration and staff seemed genuinely concerned about the students and their education. Dean Wyld also likes the way the staff takes pride in what it does to assist the students in their endeavors.

Dean Wyld hopes to make the goals of York College happen, and happen well. Two of her goals for the future at YCP are to: A) help with the expansion of the academic area (the new building, for example) and B) further the development of new majors at the college.

In closing, Dean Wyld would like to congratulate all of the graduates on their accomplishments, and encourages them to look back on the good times here!

York College says Welcome

Jane Schirman came to YCP to replace Kelly Barclay as the Assistant Director of Residence Life. Although she is originally from the west coast, she received her masters degree here on the east coast, and decided she wanted to stay here to solve the mysteries of life on the east coast. Ms. Schirman also feels that the east coast offers better programs, and that she would be more effective here. Well then, why York College? She likes small schools; she's always gone to small schools, and likes the private setting of YCP.

Ms. Schirman hopes to continually make life better for the students here by working with them, not just for them. She hopes to achieve agreement and understanding of residence hall issues like visitation hours and laundry facilities. She sees her role at York College as an important one in achieving this agreement and understanding on campus.

In closing, Ms. Schirman wants to express to the students that, "Life is not a dress rehearsal; make of it what you can, and have fun!"

Campus Activities

A vital aspect of student life involves participation in campus activities, including Student Government, academic, social, and special interest organizations, and the many social, educational and recreational events which take place on campus. A diversified program of events is planned by the students on the Campus Activities Board, working with the Director of Student Activities. Each semester features a wide range of activities such as comedians, musical performers, game shows, concerts, films, bus trips, lectures, hypnotists, and many other special events. In addition, many academic departments schedule special programs of general appeal. Department offerings have ranged from nationally-known poets to state officials and leaders from industry and community life.

The Student Union serves as the "family room" of the campus where, in an informal atmosphere, all the members of the campus community can gather to interact socially and intellectually outside the classroom. For some it also serves as a laboratory of citizenship, training students in social responsibility and leadership in community life. Programs offered at the Student Union provide cultural, social, and recreational activities designed to complement academic endeavor. All such programs are intended to encourage self-directed activity, giving maximum Friends do things for one another. They understand. They go a million miles out of their way. They hold your hand. They bring you a smile when a smile is exactly what you need. They listen and they hear what is said in the spaces between the words. They care. And they let you know you're in their prayers.

Friends always know the perfect thing to do. They can make your whole day just by saying something that no one else could have said. Sometimes you feel like the two of you share a secret language that others can't tune into.

A friend can guide you, inspire you, comfort you or light up your life with laughter. A friend understands your moods and nurtures your needs. A friend lovingly knows just what you're after.

Basketball

Spartans shoot their way to success

Although this year's mens' basketball team came up just short of winning the CAC title with a loss to Goucher in the final, they had many individual and team accomplishments to be proud of.

Individually, many of our players excelled. Dan Johnson set a school record with 555 points on the year, while Tracy Leatherman set the school standard for total games played, at 106.

As a team, this year's mens' basketball squad set many standards as well. In addition to a second straight trip to the conference championships and another winning season, the Spartans also won the White Rose City Classic in December, beating nationally ranked New Jersey Institute of Technology to take the title.

Overall, the Spartans gave us another great year. The talent that will return next season gives hope for an even better future.

Spartans drive to a fine season

The 1993 womens' basketball team was a rarity--a team with only one senior (guard Kim Klotz) that was still successful. The team finished the year 13-12, with an 8-6 conference record.

The team was led by the scoring tandem of junior Krista Carvell and freshman Rebecca Capetta, who were supported by a number of players including Robin Wise and Kristen Hedrickson. The Spartans were able to play well all year, especially in the friendly confines of Wolf Gymnasium, where they went 7-4 for the home fans.

The Spartans made an early exit from postseason play, losing to Mary Washington in the first round of the playoffs. However, the outlook is bright for the team as they return every starter next year.

Cross Country Spartans run the right course

The 1993 mens' cross country team had its "most successful season in years" with a final record of 8 wins and 3 losses, according to head coach Rich Achtzehn. The team was led by All-Conference runners Chris Woletz and Chris Young, the team MVP.

The womens' team, although unofficial, competed in every meet and fielded a full team of five runners for half of them. Alissa Consagra and Heather O'Deay qualified to run in the Mid-East regionals at Allentown College.

Team highlights included a ninth place finish out of 26 teams at the Lebanon Valley Invitational and a twelfth place finish at the Allentown Invitational.

Field Hockey

Spartans field tough season

The 1993 field hockey team began practices on August 31, led by a core of upperclassmen including Shelly Kiger, Liz Vandegrift, and Shelly Hock. These veterans were aided by a large group of freshmen and sophomores.

Although the team only managed a 5-9 season and lost to Goucher in the first round of the playoffs, there were many high points to the year.

One such high point was an emotional 5-3 victory over Catholic in October. The game was such a great team effort that instead of one player being selected game MVP, the whole team was given this honor.

In addition to the Catholic victory, the team also defeated Wesley and Wilson with tremendous offensive outputs. These three instances showed fans and players alike how good the field hockey team could be and provided a hopeful sign for the future.

Golf

The 1994 spring golf season was cut short because of extremely bad weather. As a result, the team was able to compete in only five tournaments. During the spring season, the team average was 318.6, which enabled the Spartans to have a fine record of 46.15. However, since the season was so short, several players did not play to their capability which eliminated the Spartans from being selected to play in the national championships.

The team's MVP was once again Derek Olsen. Derek has a spring average of 77.8 and an overall season average of 78.8.

For the first time in York College history, the Spartans hosted their own tournament at the Outdoor Country Club. They finished in third place behind Gettysburg and Wesley in the eleven team field.

Spartans kick to conference finals

The 1993 soccer team used a combination of new blood and veteran experience to end the season at 11-8. The team reached the CAC finals, but victory eluded them.

First team All-Conference selections Ben Ossei-Akoannor and Jason Snyder led the Spartans, backed up by freshman goalkeepers Tom Sullivan and Vince Bianco. The team was captained by team MVP Jeff Bowers, Adam Doutrich, and Jeff Boulos.

The team played well consistently. They gave nationally ranked Gettysburg a scare early in the season before falling 1-0. They later would advance to the conference finals before losing to perennial national power Mary Washington College on the Eagles' home field.

The Spartans will have almost all of their starters returning next year. They will hopefully be able to use this to their advantage, and win a conference title and NCAA playoff berth.

Spartans cover all the bases

When is the snow going to melt, was the big question this year? Last season too much rain, this season definitely too much snow! All of March was wiped out with the exception of the Susquehanna game which fortunately was only postponed to a later date. Nine total games were cancelled and fifteen were played.

The Spartans' outfield was exceptionally good this year! Many outstanding catches were made by the following players: junior centerfielder, Michele Stockman; freshman leftfielder, Stacy Chandler; and senior rightfielder, Lissa Struass. These three players took great pride in "going all out" to get any ball that came into "their" outfield.

The Spartans' infield, however, struggled this season, accounting for fifty-five of the fifty-eight total errors. To the team's dismay, it seemed to always be one bad inning that hurt them and spoiled their shot at winning most of the games lost.

The team ended the season with six wins and nine losses.

Swimming

Spartans stroke through rough year

This season was a rough one for both the mens' and womens' swim teams at YCP. Suffering from a lack of swimmers hit the men hard as they finished with a 6-6 record. The same problem hurt the women even more, as they only managed a 3-13 finish.

For the men, Gene Heyman and Adam Turney were bright spots. Heyman finished third in the 50 meter freestyle at the CAC championships, while Turney finished sixth in the 200 meter freestyle at the same meet. As a team, the men finished sixth in the meet.

The women spent much of the year hampered by injuries, resulting in their lackluster final record. However, many team members were able to do well individually, as Julie Mayo and Cynda Smith both earned two top twelve finishes at the conference meet.

Track & Field

The 1994 York College track and field team officially started practice on March 7, 1994. Thirty-five of the forty-seven who came out for the team finished the season in good standing.

The 1994 York College track and field team improved from last season finishing with a .500 record and a third place finish in the conference championship. Seven athletes earned All-Conference honors finishing first or second in their respective events at the conference championship. Also, one team record was broken this season.

Mike Bate and Wade McHargue won individual conference titles at the Capital Athletic Conference Championship. Finishing second in their events and earning All-Conference honors were Jermaine Bailey, Mike Jackson, Chris Young, John Schlosser, and Dan Miller. In addition, freshman Wade McHargue tied the school record in the shot put with a throw of 47'2". Also, senior Mike Bate won an individual title in the discus throw at the Kutztown Open.

Mike Jackson, a senior from Annandale, VA, was chosen most valuable track and field performer for the 1994 season.

Spartans serve up winning season

The YCP volleyball team has won more matches than any other conference school. They fell just short of winning the conference title this season, losing to Goucher. The Spartans finished the season with a 23-17 record, 7-1 in conference play.

This was the final season at York for Kristie Wynn and Becky Cross. Cross and junior Becky Toms earned All-East region honors this season. Toms was a first team All-CAC selection, while Cross and Leah Peters made the second team.

Although this year's squad fell just short of their ultimate goals, they had an excellent season. The team had many individual and team honors, and looks to only get better.

Wrestling

Spartans pin down great season

The 1993 Spartan wrestling team, coached by Tom Kessler, had fourteen students come out. The team had a tremendous season, finishing 10-1 in dual meets, while winning the Spartan Invitational and placing fifth in the Metro Conference championships.

The team was led by Jared Goodman and Andy Miller. Goodman (177 pounds) and Miller (heavyweight) finished first and second in the conference, respectively. They also wrestled at the National Championships.

YCP wrestlers not only did well on the mat with five top five finishes in the conference, but in the classroom as well. Both Goodman and Chris Dentler were named to the Academic All-American team.

PERFECTION

Q: What plans do you have for your organization to bring it one step closer to perfection?

A: I feel that Alpha Sigma Alpha has made a lot of progress towards perfection this past year. I feel that to get closer to that goal we as Greeks need to be more involved in community and campus service. I think ΑΣΑ has many qualities of perfection already because we are all friends and a very close family.

- Amanda Witmer
President

Alpha Sigma Alpha

Alpha Sigma Tau

Q: What plans do you have for your organization to bring it one step closer to perfection?

A: It is my hope that Alpha Sigma Tau will continue its active participation in campus and community service activities. The sisters of Alpha Sigma Tau continually work to go above and beyond the academic standards of our National Foundation. Hopefully by striving to increase participation and academics, Alpha Sigma Tau will become one step closer to perfection.

- Amy Darney
President

Q: What plans do you have for your organization to bring it one step closer to perfection?

A: As the smallest fraternity on campus, (not impossibility) for us to focus on the community, the disadvantaged, the needy, the elderly, and the disabled cause a feeling of regret. We regret not having enough members to help more of the hungry elderly, the disabled veterans, and the sick and frightened children within this community. I have read that regret can lead towards wisdom, and wisdom is one step closer to perfection.

Delta Phi Epsilon

Q: What plans do you have for your organization to bring it one step closer to perfection?

A: Delta Phi Epsilon is a group of unique individuals who work together to accomplish our goals. Keeping in mind the true meaning behind our letters encourages us to strive to be the best we can be. From within our sorority comes the confidence to reach for the top, perfection. And if we should fall short, we know our sisters will be there to pick us up and lead us on the right path again.

- Sheena McPhie
President

Q: What plans do you have for your organization to bring it one step closer to perfection?

A: In the past few years, we have been fortunate to overcome many obstacles. I am continually overwhelmed by the strong sense of brotherhood that leads us towards our goals. Our number one goal has always been brotherhood because we feel it is the most important element that a fraternity has to offer. To come one step closer to perfection we have recognized the need for participation in community service projects. Although we have improved greatly in this area, we need to become more involved before perfection can be reached.

Q: What plans do you have for your organization to bring it one step closer to perfection?

A: As president of Omega Chi, my plans for this organization are not to strive for perfection, but to keep the spirit of Omega Chi's family, strong and unified. No organization can ever be perfect, but the pride of Omega Chi burns in each of its members. Each sister is a piece of a puzzle that fits perfectly, but individually, each one is unique. They can never be replaced, but can grow indefinitely.

Q: What plans do you have for your organization to bring it one step closer to perfection?

A: Phi Kappa Epsilon is already an outstanding service and social organization. Yet, we still have plans to bring us one step closer to perfection. We are striving to increase our campus and community, but also better ourselves as individuals. We also would like to increase our membership so that we can further promote our motto of friendship, unity, and trust.

Q: What plans do you have for your organization to bring it one step closer to perfection?

A: In the past year Phi

Kappa Psi has taken great strides towards perfection. The following are some headlines from this year:

- Phi Kappa Psi Awards First Ever Scholarship to Student Body.
 - Adopt-A-Block has Record Turn-out.
 - Phi Kappa Psi Takes Largest Fall Pledge Class on Campus.
- These headlines along with strengthening alumni support, has taken Pennsylvania Rho even closer to perfection.

Q: What plans do you have for your organization to bring it one step closer to perfection?

A: The sisters of Phi Mu have three strongholds which are: love, honor, and truth. My plans for Phi Mu are to continue to strive for excellence in whatever we do, maintain good Greek relations, and respect the individualism of all in our organization. Phi Mu has always been regarded as possessing high integrity. My goal is to keep bringing us higher and never letting us fall. This sisterhood I will remember with fond memories.

Q: What plans do you have for your organization to bring it one step closer to perfection?

A: I believe that communication is the key to a stronger organization. Through organized channels of communication, we can better relate and understand each other. Each member of our organization is a separate entity, but only together, through effective communication, do we excel.

Sigma Delta Sigma

Q: What plans do you have for your organization to bring it one step closer to perfection?

A: To bring Sigma Delta Sigma even one step closer to perfection would be tough. We strongly believe that both the good times and the bad times we've been through help us to become a better organization every day. As long as we continue to stress individuality while maintaining unity, we feel that we need not reach perfection. After all, anyone can do community service, but Delta would be nothing without the unique bond the sisters share.

- Stacey Pickett
President

Q: What plans do you have for your organization to bring it one step closer to perfection?

A: Sigma Delta Tau will continue to strive for excellence in their community and campus service. We will maintain our enthusiasm while working with people and children in the community and the students of York College. We will continue to maintain the ideals of our sorority and uphold the national traditions within our organization.

- Sheri Kimball
President

Sigma Delta Tau

Sigma Chi Epsilon

Q: What plans do you have for your organization to bring it one step closer to perfection?

A: We, the founding fathers of Sigma Chi Epsilon have developed a brotherhood that epitomizes the principles of honor and respect. Like the mighty Phoenix we have risen from the ashes of doubt, and became an all powerful force among men. The heart of Sigma Chi Epsilon is an eternal flame which has conquered all boundaries in order to perpetuate its standing as the perfect brotherhood.

Q: What plans do you have for your organization to bring it one step closer to perfection?

A: TKE was established to aid college men in mental, moral, and social development. This chapter at York College has done nothing less than exceed these standards. We pride ourselves on our individuality, diverseness and our overall love of being brothers in the bond of Tau Kappa Epsilon. We were very active this year in raising money for many charities, especially the Kidney Foundation. As the years go by the bond of TKE at York College grows stronger. I love the fraternity!

- Mike Funke
President

Q: What plans do you have for your organization to bring it one step closer to perfection?

A: We don't strive for perfection, because we see it as an unattainable goal. We do strive to be the best that we can as an organization as well as individuals. In order to keep improving, we aim for balance academically, socially, and emotionally. To do so, we push to have every brother maintain a G.P.A. of 2.1 or better. We also live for our brothers to be involved in other activities on campus like clubs, sports, senate, etc. We rely on one another for emotional strength and guidance when things go wrong. There really is no one step, it's more like a continual process of setting goals, teaching them, and setting new ones. Being a brother of Zeta Beta Tau means that you're dedicated to constant improvement.

GRADUATION

Winter Commencement

Dr. Waldner takes his place at the podium to welcome the graduates and their guests.

Keeping with tradition, these two graduates used their caps for some free advertising and thank yous!

Even across the crowded gymnasium, fellow graduates make contact before the big moment.

Winter Commencement

On Wednesday, December 22, 1993 at 10:30 a.m., York College of Pennsylvania added three hundred three new members to its alumni, as the Winter Commencement took place in the Wolf Gymnasium. Receiving an Honorary Degree was Dr. Thomas C. Norris, Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer with P.H. Gladfelter Company.

Dr. Florence L. Ames was awarded the Professional Service and Leadership Award by Mr. Russell S. McIntosh, President of the Alumni Association. The Commencement Address, entitled "Take Something like a Star", was given by Mr. Donald L. Holroyd, Associate Professor of English and Humanities.

Following the ceremony, the graduates and their guests were treated to a luncheon as York College congratulated its newest Alumni.

More memories and thanks are shared with the crowd.

The anticipation builds as the graduates begin to line up for the walk across the stage.

Winter Commencement

Family and friends look on as loved ones are about to close a chapter in their lives.

Professor Patrick J. Massa, President of the Academic Senate leads the graduates into the gymnasium.

It doesn't get any better than this!

Spring Commencement

Another graduate says her hellos and thanks!

"Can you believe we're actually here?"

Waiting in anticipation, this grad looks forward to a congratulations toast with his friends.

It looks as though "Bubble Paint" sales go up in December and May!

Spring Commencement

On Saturday, May 14, 1994 at 10:30 a.m., York College of Pennsylvania added four hundred eighty-nine new members to its alumni, as the Spring Commencement took place in front of Campbell Hall. Receiving Honorary Degrees were Mr. Daniel G. Meckley III and Dr. F. Sheldon Hackney.

Mrs. Phyllis Diehl Plowman was presented with The Distinguished Alumnus Award, and Dr. Robert F. Denoncourt and Dr. Mary Ann Snodgrass were given the honors of Recognition of Faculty and Administrative Personnel for Distinguished Service. The Commencement Address was given by Dr. Hackney.

Following the ceremony, the graduates and their guests were treated to a luncheon as York College congratulated its newest Alumni.

Spring Commencement

A new Associate Degree recipient prepares for the big moment.

Signing the rock is one of YCPS's greatest traditions.

"I'm outta here!"

"Me, too!"

WORLD REPORT

Enemies to the death for three decades, Israel and the Palestine Liberation Organization opened a new era in their blood-soaked history by recognizing each other's legitimacy. Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin and the P.L.O. chairman, Yasser Arafat, signed a treaty at the White House. The Mideast accord was the product of months of secret negotiations conducted mainly in Norway. The accord sanctioned the creation of an autonomous Palestinian homeland in the Gaza Strip and Jericho.

Bosnian President Alija Izetbegovic says he is disillusioned about the world's willingness to take action to end bloodshed in his country. Bosnian Serbs have been fighting for their own state. The fighting began after Muslims and Croats -- together about 60 percent of Bosnia -- voted earlier this year to secede from Yugoslavia. Izetbegovic heads a seven-member presidency, comprised of two Muslims, two Croats, two Serbs and one representative of other minorities, such as Hungarians and Jews.

Bill Clinton became the 42nd president of the United States in 1993. The former governor from Arkansas struggled through his first few months in the White House, suffering a defeat for a jobs bill and delays in his health care reform efforts. But by September, the 47-year-old president was a seasoned veteran. His tax reform bill passed, the health care package was being fine-tuned and there was peace in the Mideast.

Sheik Omar Abdel-Rahman was the accused leader of a group of terrorists that exploded a bomb in the World Trade Center. More than 1,000 were injured and 6 died. The 55-year-old Egyptian sheik had been linked to dozens of terrorist plots around the country, including plots to bomb other New York City buildings, the United Nations and Lincoln and Holland tunnels.

The P.L.O. and Israel, in a historic breakthrough after decades of warfare, agreed to officially recognize each other. One of the prime architects of that agreement was Israel's foreign minister, Shimon Peres.

Mohamed Farrah Aidid, the feared warlord in the devastated country of Somalia, eluded United Nations military forces for months. A U.S.-led multinational force arrived in the war-torn country last year to help feed the starving population and bring peace to a country run by warlords. Aidid was considered the most powerful of the warlords and was blamed for numerous attacks on the military. The power struggle in Somalia left tens of thousands dead and allowed the country to be carved into a collection of clan fiefdoms in the absence of a central government. More than 350,000 Somalis died from the fighting and famine.

After two years of exile that followed an army coup that overthrew him, Haitian president Rev. Jean-Bertrand Aristide was set to return home. Aristide, a Roman Catholic priest, was elected in a landslide in the country's first democratic vote. His return followed two years of negotiating a settlement of Haiti's political crisis.

Janet Reno is the first woman attorney general of the United States. As the nation's head crime fighter, she confronts growing problems - drugs, gangs, violence. The 55-year-old prosecutor has become a crusader for America's children.

Ross Perot, the Texas computer tycoon and erstwhile presidential candidate, keeps his public image alive after he lost his presidential bid. Perot won 19 percent of the vote in the 1992 presidential election in a historic independent presidential candidacy.

In September the Bosnian parliament rejected an international peace plan for that devastated republic. The move postponed a settlement that would have ended the 18-month-old war that has partitioned the country into three ethnic states for Croats, Muslims and Serbs. The United Nations has sent a peace-keeping force to the former Yugoslavia to help keep peace among the three warring factions. Tens of thousands of people have been killed in the conflict and more than a million have been left homeless.

Entertainment REPORT

Pearl Jam, the purveyor of grunge, which is an unadorned grinding rock sound fashioned by Seattle-based bands, swept the 10th annual Video Music Awards with four awards for "Jeremy." The groups first release, "Ten," hit the charts and went triple platinum.

David Letterman, the darling of the late-night television audience, left his niche at NBC and moved over to Broadway and 52nd St. to the newly refurbished Ed Sullivan Theater that CBS renovated for him. He changed networks for a reported $15 million contract. And his new show swept the ratings with rave reviews.

The rap group Onyx hit the charts with a bang this year with their latest album, "Baccdafucup." Not long after that, their hot single "Slam" hit the top-selling charts and remained a best seller for several months.

"It's About Time" is an aptly named title for SWV's debut album. It was only a matter of time before a crew of young females, with real singing talent and street appeal arrived on the musical scene. Coko, Taj, and Lelee - Sisters With Voices - have been drawing attention with their singing abilities since childhood. Their debut album is a collection of urban street beats, soulfully oldstyle ballads and a little rap.

The 1991 release by the Spin Doctors entitled "Pocket Full of Kryptonite" simmered as a cult hit for almost a year before taking off toward multi-platinum. Guitarist Aaron Comess, who studied at New York's New School, formed the band with classmates. He performs his soulful talking blues and rhythmic cords with unwavering skill.

Duran Duran came back. The hitmakers and video icons of the 1980's came back with a hot self-titled album. The British band was formed in 1980, then split-up about five years later and regrouped the following year. "Duran Duran" was also the name of their first record, which came out in 1981. The quintet's latest "Duran Duran" is a big hit. And so is the single from that album, "Ordinary World," which hit the top ten.

Janet Jackson's new album, "Janet" introduces a bold new singer. Her new album clocks in at more than 75 minutes and doesn't leave out much - pop, rap, rock, jazz, ballads, opera, a thunderstorm and goofy dialogue. One critic said: "This album contains some of the finest work by this modern hitmaker, and more than a few moments that are downright silly and boring."

Dr. Dre is the chief architect of what is known as West Coast gangsta rap. He has produced million-selling albums, most recently, "The Chronic."

Michael Jackson's popularity keeps rolling along. The 35-year-old entertainer makes news wherever he goes. He's on the album charts with his latest release, "Dangerous." On the 'top-music-video' charts, there was "Moonwalker" and "Michael Jackson: Legend Continues."

Exposé has been a favorite group for a long time. Their latest hit single, "I'll Never Get Over You (Getting Over Me)," was an instant success. It hit the best-selling chart and stayed there for months and months.

The first place most students go to at the beginning of each semester is the bookstore. Founded in the 1960's, the bookstore was originally housed where the Spart's Den is now. Back then it was only opened a few days a week during the school year. In the early 1970's it was relocated to its' current location, the bottom level of Wolf Gymnasium. Currently, it is run by Chuck Bailey, Maureen Bailey, two full time staff members and approximately 15 work-study students. The bookstore sells many items, including: sweatshirts, T-shirts, shorts, Greek apparel, jewelry, school supplies, cards, gifts, and of course, BOOKS.

COLOPHON

The 1994 edition of the Horizon, the 52nd volume of the yearbook at York College of Pennsylvania, was printed by Herff Jones Yearbooks in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. The 160 point cover is custom embossed with Gold and Red foil applied. Antique blue base material with Cordova graining was placed on the cover. The cover was manufactured in Montgomery, Alabama. Al Oussoren was the company representative and Joyce Spenla was the account representative at the plant.

The binding was Smyth sewn rounded and backed, 80lb. bordeaux paper stock was used throughout the book. The school designed endsheets were printed different front and back on FC 07 Blue paper stock using black ink applied. The typeface used throughout the yearbook was Palatino. 32 pages of four color were printed in the Horizon. Scalet and Pearlescent Steel Blue along with Emerald Green, Canary, Copenhagen, Violet, Turquoise, Cherry, Pearlescent Sea Mist, Pearlescent Mauve and Forest Green spot colors were used throughout the book.

Professional photography, including the senior and faculty portraits, was supplied by DaVor Photography, Inc. in Bensalem, Pennsylvania. Neil Weidman served as representative to the Horizon.

Four hundred and forty copies with a press run of 192 pages were printed. The base operating budget for the 1994 edition was $26,000. All correspondence should be directed to: The Horizon Yearbook, York College of Pennsylvania, York, PA 17405-7199.
